

AUDIO VALU-ES

Sustainability is an immense word. So immense, that it encompasses other key concepts. Like Natural Capital, which is vital to understand the value nature brings to your company, and the value your company contributes to society. Or responsibility. Innovation. Or profitability.

VALU-ES encompasses all of these aspects, as it empowers you to assess, value, manage and report on your company's natural capital to take decisions that foster thriving environments for nature, people, society and your financial prosperity.

These are all concepts that fall within the scope of sustainability. Like adaptable, because VALU-ES is a fully customizable digital tool for your company, which adapts to your own management systems and IoT., and connects your data and business with decisions makers. Or like trust, because VALU-ES provides privacy, confidentiality, security, and data governance that leave your territory and reach the board of directors. And just like nature, VALU-ES is every part of your value chain. Above all, Natural Capital is an opportunity. And with VALU-ES, you can detect them all. And the risk and demands of society and the market.

That's why VALU-ES has all the experience, innovation, and solvency of NTT DATA Inc., to accompany you in leading a sustainability model for your company, where data governance information base decisions, and efficient management are the path to success. Because the future is prosperity. And also, responsibility, innovation, trust, profitability... And all of that, is within... Yes, you guessed it, VALU-ES.
